

constitutional heterogeneity

of polymers

The variation in constitution from molecule to molecule in polymers with molecules uniform with respect to elemental composition. An example is a polymer composed of linear and branched molecules; another example is a statistical copolymer comprising two isomeric constitutional units.

Source:

Purple Book, p. 52